ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Kent State College Alumni

There are 5,434 members of the Kent State College Alumni Association, which is one of the oldest organizations connected with the college. It was first established in May, 1911 and the first president of the group was Mr. Edwin F. Moulton of Warren, Ohio.

The present officers are President, Otto J. Korb; V. Pres., John F. Koeppe; Sec., Alma M. Zinninger; Treas., Calvin P. Rausch.

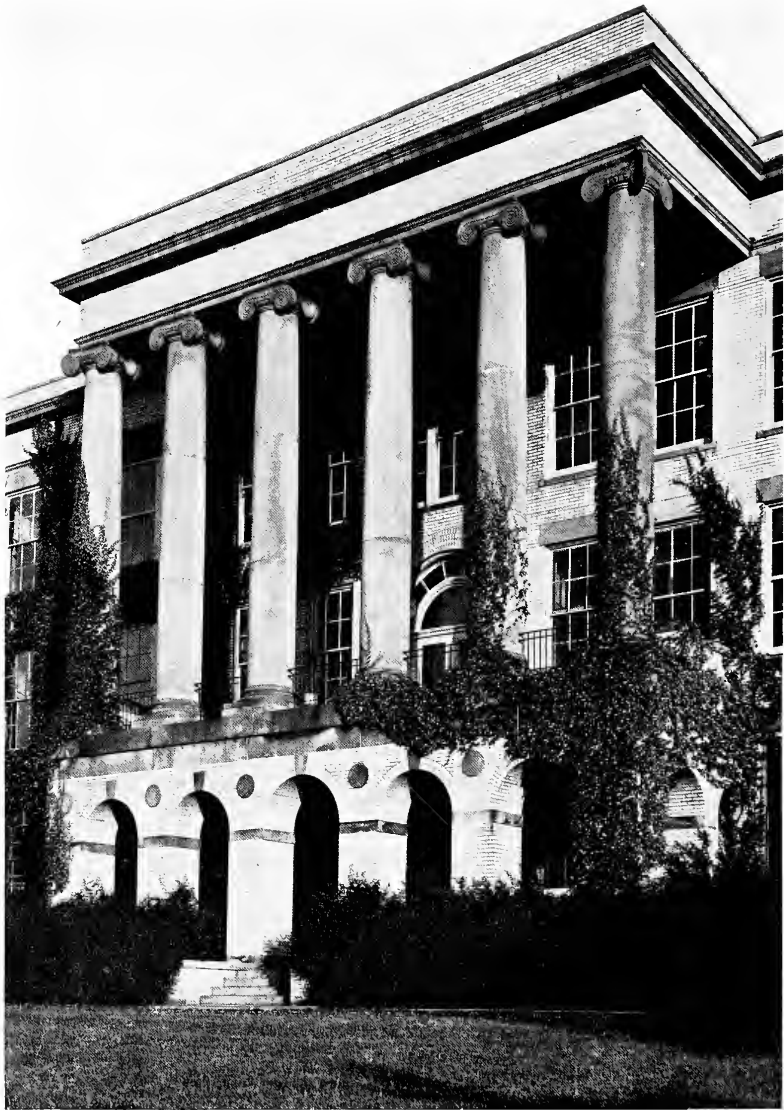

OTTO J. KORB

Dedication

The 1933 Chestnut Burr is hereby dedicated to the Kent State College Alumni Association of which Mr. Otto J. Korb, superintendent of the South-Euclid—Lyndhurst School District is the president.

Mr. Korb is one of Kent State's first graduates.

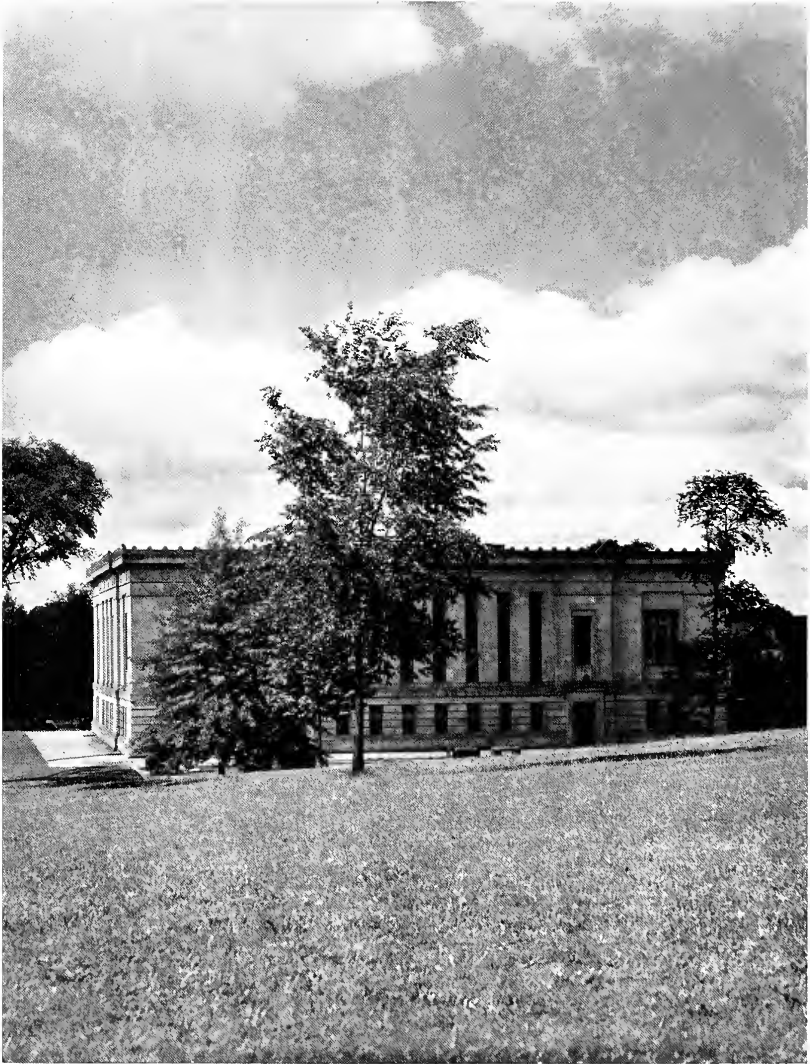

The future greatness of Kent State College will be built upon the foundation of a strong and active Alumni Association. Mr. Korb and his associates realize this and are working successfully towards that end.

THE KENT STATER STAFF

The Kent Stater is published each week throughout the summer and winter sessions of the school year by a staff selected by the editor and the faculty advisor.

The editor and the assistant editor are appointed each year by the Faculty Committee on Publications and receive as compensation a small salary and free tuition.

The majority of the staff is enrolled in journalism courses under Professor Engleman, who, besides being advisor to the Kent Stater, is also Head of the Journalism Department and Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Publications.

Football Season Review

When the Kent State College football team wound up its 1931 schedule with three impressive victories after losing its first four contests, the outlook for 1932 brightened. But when the 1932 season finally ended, the Golden Flashes found themselves at the bottom of the Ohio Conference ladder, with the seemingly incredible, and totally unimpressive record of five defeats and two scoreless ties. To add to the irony of the situation, Kent was unable to score a single point through the course of the schedule, while the opposition ran its total up to 80 points.

JIM SHELLY
Football Captain

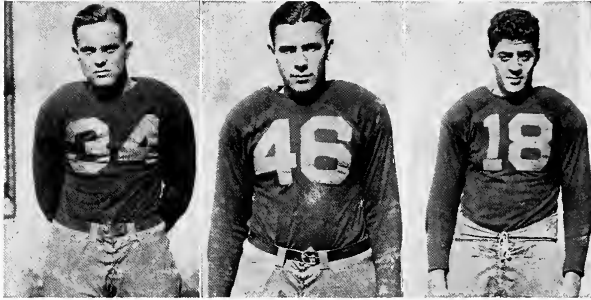

Sports followers of the Flashes are of the opinion that Coach Merle Wagoner's eleven displayed the poorest brand of football imaginable, and that the team did not play its best. While this is true to a certain extent, those who saw all of the games were impressed by the fight which the Flashes put up, no matter how great the odds were against them.

To the average student, the only thing that saved Kent from total disgrace was the scoreless tie with Akron U. After dropping their first three games at home, Kent took to foreign territory, starting off with the Zippers. Although the Flashes were slated to lose, they played the part of the underdog, and left the field with a moral victory. Their fight was evident, since they held repeatedly when Akron threatened to score, but more impressive is the fact that they held a team which was heavier, 12 pounds to the man on the line and 24 pounds in the backfield.

The season opened with Hiram's Terriors upsetting the Wagonerites, 6 to 0, for Kent's first defeat on Rockwell field after three seasons with no losses on the local grid. The victory took with it the mythical Portage County collegiate title.

The next week Otterbein invaded Rockwell field, and was expected to win easily. But the Flashes were improved, and appeared a great deal more organized as they held the Westerville aggregation on even terms for nearly three quarters. But a blocked punt, immediately followed by a touchdown, completely shattered the morale of the Flashes, and two lengthy runs gave Otterbein two additional tallies for a final score of 19 to 0.

The Blue and Gold lost their third game of the season at home the following week as Baldwin-Wallace trampled over the locals, 21 to 0. However, the Bereans scored all their points in the first half, and throughout the second half Kent outplayed their heavier opponents.

The sensational scoreless tie against Akron followed the Baldwin-Wallace game, breaking the jinx which had always meant defeat by the Zippers in the past. In this game the line showed up exceptionally well, constantly breaking through on both the offense and defense, and holding Akron three times within the five-yard marker and four other times inside the 25-yard stripe.

Playing under the arc lights in Cleveland's new Municipal stadium only meant another defeat for the Flashes, this time a 28 to 0 set-back by John Carroll.

The next week at Columbus, Kent held the favored Fighting Lutherans of Capital U. to a scoreless deadlock; but had the Flashes played "heady" football instead of throwing futile forward passes, they might have been able to discard the title of "scoreless wonders".

Ashland wound up Kent's disastrous schedule by trimming the Blue and Gold, 6 to 0, in a ragged punting duel that featured the Homecoming program on the Kent campus. However, Kent's men were still in there fighting, just as they had been doing all season, but the fact that Ashland had one of the strongest, heaviest, and most impenetrable lines encountered by the Flashes all season kept the fighting spirit from the eyes of the average fan.

Coach Wagoner will lose several lettermen this year, but he will have many veterans available next fall, as well as an abundance of material from the 1932 Freshman squad. The lettermen who will not return include: Bill Disbro, Larry Nicholson, Jim Shelly, Kerm Taylor, "Major" Hinkle, and Don Housley.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Coach Gus Peterka, in his first season as freshman football mentor, was met by a squad of 65 yearlings, most of whom remained in the group for the whole fall training period. Coach Peterka was greatly pleased with the faithful, willing, conscientious, "willing to help" spirit which was present during the regular practice sessions. Scrimmage was frequently held with the varsity and with Kent State High School.

It is expected that many of the 1932 freshman team will furnish the varsity with a wealth of trained material when another season rolls around.

Basketball Season Review

Kent's 1932-1933 basketball team suffered a poor season, winning only 4 games out of 15 and ending up just two steps out of the cellar in the Ohio Conference standings. But the schedule was not without its highlights. The real sensation of the season undoubtedly was Al De Leone's long, arched shot as the final whistle sounded in the first Baldwin-Wallace game at Berea, a shot which enabled the Golden Flashes to defeat Baldwin-Wallace, 26-25, and thus snap a seventeen game losing streak. It looked as though the Flashes had completely gotten out of their slump as Fenn, which had previously defeated Kent, was set back 31-23 in the next game; but once again a losing streak developed, this time for four games. Then Hiram was defeated 28-27 as Joey Carl kept his eye on the basket in the critical minutes. After losing the next game to John Carroll, Kenyon lost to the Flashes 40-30 for the fourth and final Kent win.

Heidelberg opened the season, winning 31-19. Then Akron U.'s classy Zippers showed themselves too strong and again Kent lost, 36-16. A visit to Cleveland brought another defeat, 33-29, as missed fouls by Kent presented victory to Fenn. Along came Marietta to make it 17 straight losses for Kent.

Then came the upset over Baldwin-Wallace. De Leone's long shot and the total of 19 points between Carl and Gerig featured the contest. These two sharpshooters scored 18 the following week as Fenn was stopped in a return game.

Once again numerous missed foul shots spelt defeat for the Flashes, this time by Kenyon, 36-33. Then along came the powerful Mt. Union quintet, and Kent put up the best fight of the season, despite Mount's high conference ranking, before being subdued, 42-27.

Muskingum and Baldwin-Wallace won from Kent as the Flashes failed to convert numerous fouls. Following the victory over Hiram, Kent lost to John Carroll 38-27 at Cleveland, but then came back to run up its highest score in two years as Kenyon lost its return engagement, 40-30.

Hiram evened the series with Kent by winning 37-27 in a game marked by wild throws and frequent misses on the part of both teams. Carroll ended the disastrous season by winning a second game from Kent, 36-29 in a last minute upset.

Joey Carl, although he missed the opening game, was high individual scorer for the season with 46 goals and 27 fouls for 119 points. Of these 101 were scored in Conference games. De Leone was second with 65, closely followed by Corvin Gerig with 60.

The varsity team was composed of Joey Carl and Al Losito or Byrne "Doc" De Weese at forward; Guy Iarussi, center; Al De Leone and Corvin Gerig guards. George Kling alternated with Iarussi or one of the guards. Other reserves included Frank Ranney, Russ Filson, Paul Strahl, and Larry Nicholson. Carl and Nicholson are the members of the squad who will be lost from next year's team by graduation.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Coach Gus Peterka divided the 21 members of his freshman basketball squad, who survived the cut from the original 54 candidates, into four teams, with each taking turns in scrimmage against the varsity.

The freshman also played several preliminaries to home varsity games, including contests with various intramural teams.

An excellent spirit was prevalent throughout the season, and members of the squad who return next year should put up a good fight for varsity berths.

The intercollegiate season wound up with the Blue and Gold outfit taking a road trip into New York State and defeating Mechanics Institute of Rochester and Alfred U. The final meet of the schedule was a 30 to 0 shut-out triumph for the Bagalamen, a fitting finale for the most successful season of wrestling in the history of Kent.

Coach Joe Begala's Blue and Gold wrestlers won five out of eight Ohio Inter-collegiate wrestling championships in the annual title bouts at the Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, on Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18. Four second places and two thirds were also included in the array of honors brought back by the team of 14 entrants.

Kent virtually stole the spotlight, with two of the final bouts being between two Flash grapplers. Miller defeated "Shorty" Glatzer in the 135 lb. division, while Dunlavy pinned Jay Littlepage in the 155 lb. class. Second places were also taken by Merle Baker in the 145 lb. class and David Alden in the 118 lb. group. Joe Gettrust and Art Caniglia took third in the 145 and 165 lb. classes respectively.

Both Dunlavy and Lukens remained undefeated for the season by winning the titles in their respective classes, Dunlavy scoring his eleventh consecutive fall of the year in eleven bouts when he won the final.

Case won the other three championships, in the 118, 145, and 175 lb. divisions.

The first varsity gym team in the history of Kent State College, coached by Prof. George J. Altmann, was well supported by an enthusiastic student body. Five dual meets were held, with Kent winning two. In addition, the Golden Flashes won a triangular meet with Akron U. and the Akron Y.M.C.A. team.

On March 28 the Germania Turnverein Vorwaerts of Cleveland gave an exhibition in Willis gymnasium, assisted by Burns, Glatzer and McKay of the Kent team. This exhibition drew a full gallery which gave ample proof that interest in gym work is rapidly growing and that the gym team is destined to become one of the features of Kent's athletic program.

Among those performing for the Turners were Hennig, Olympic champion club swinger of 1904 and champion of the National American Gym Union for the last fifteen years, and Carter, state high school champion tumbler.

Four members of the Kent State squad received their varsity letters, including Robert Burns, Charles "Shorty" Glatzer, Eldred Miller and Victor Moore.

SOME HIGH-LIGHTS OF 1932-1933

This school year has been one of great accomplishments for Kent State College and many of its organizations and students.

Five Ohio championships were annexed by Flash Wrestlers, Joe Taborsky, Eldred Miller, Elmer Dunlavy, Clive Lukens and Ivo Rinaldi.

The Women's Debate Team won a silver loving cup, emblematic of the Ohio Women's Debate Conference Championship. The Women's Team was composed of Lois K. Whiteleather, Capt.: Lucille Arnold, Josephine Cotman, Betty Grant, Audrey Hood, Barbara Ladd, Virginia Motz, Flora Jean Sprague, Neva Zuver.

Jessie Hinds won second place in interpretation in the state contest.

The Men's Debate Team debated with a team from Oxford University, England. It was a non-decision debate.

The Kent Stater, edited by Glenwood Oyster, was awarded a "SUPERIOR" All-American Honor rating by the National Scholastic Press Association this year.

Kent State College was admitted to the North Central Association of Colleges.

Two men, Jim Shelly and Elmer Dunlavy, were given honorable mention as all-Ohio football players.

"Bud" Conley, boxing for the American Legion of Kent, reached the finals of the Boxing Tourney held at Columbus.
